

When you are a bystander, think about your actions and whether they are helpful or hurtful. By Acting and stepping up, you are protecting the survivor. By standing by, your lack of action only benefits the offender. Finally, as an Assistant, you are directly helping the offender, causing the survivor harm.

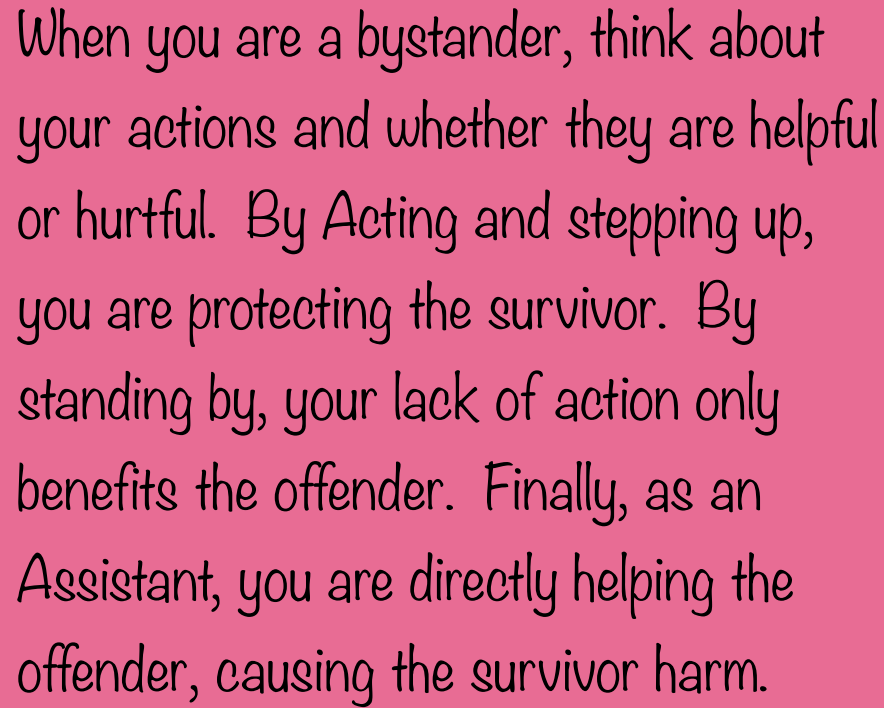

not

1 in 3

Women are survivors of sexual violence

According to RAINN

Next

When you are a bystander, think about your actions and whether they are helpful or hurtful. By Acting and stepping up, you are protecting the survivor. By standing by, your lack of action only benefits the offender. Finally, as an Assistant, you are directly helping the offender, causing the survivor harm.

Next